

Discover Greece – with Aegean

Aegean Airlines, a Star Alliance member, is Greece’s largest airline. The company has always been a customer focused, full service carrier, placing the emphasis on quality and efficiency, receiving many plaudits over the years for its outstanding service – a fact that was recognized again in 2017 when Skytrax named Aegean as the best regional airline in Europe.

Aegean has been investing over many years in strengthening its international presence and offers a choice of connections from eight German airports to Athens, Thessaloniki and seasonal to Crete and Rhodes. Furthermore there is the opportunity for connections via Athens to Middle East, e.g. Amman, Tel Aviv, Beirut, Riyadh or Teheran.

Aegean Airlines - Comfort and Service

Aegean has always emphasized quality. All aircraft are equipped with comfortable leather seats, while complimentary warm meals and soft drinks are also a welcome touch. Business Class passengers benefit from even more personal space as the middle seat is always left empty, plus their priority check-in, priority boarding and comfortable lounges allow them to make the best use of their time before departure. And then there’s the warmth of the welcome and the real Greek hospitality on board – something that can be enjoyed by all Aegean’s passengers!

Aegean Airlines - Miles & Bonus

Miles&Bonus, Aegean’s loyalty program, offers members a world of benefits. The program is not only about earning and spending miles; it’s about managing a journey, going beyond the travel experience. Each membership tier offers privileges and rewards with members being able to quickly reach Gold status, not only by flying with Aegean, but also when flying with any other Star Alliance member carrier. Miles can be redeemed on all Aegean and Star Alliance partner airlines, as well as on seat upgrades and other attractive non-flight rewards from non-airline partners.
